1. The former Bernburg (M 52/D 76) airfield was under cultivation on 16 August 1950. The concrete surface had been torn up. The field was used for farming the first time in 1949. A hospital and an agricultural research institute for the cultivation of plants were in the buildings. *

* Comment. The status of the former airfield has been unchanged since the last report of March 1949. There are no indications that the field will be reconditioned. The presence of a hospital was reported in March 1949.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
